

sense in 75 words

With sense, the digital agency Platingroup from Stuttgart has developed the world's first app that makes communication in real time a truly tangible experience. Every painted line on the device's screen is visible in real time for the partners and thanks to the sense vibrating glowing point even tangible. As a new highlight, the users can now take his drawings even as a movie and share it via the app on Facebook, Twitter or email.

load it. sense it. love it.
